Indexes

Vol. 95 September 2005–July 2006

Author Index

Adams, Catherine. "So, What's Political about It?" (Teaching English in the World). January 98–99

Alfred, Suellen. [See Null, Linda, and Suellen Alfred]

Anderson, Carolyn K. [See Speaker, Tracy, and Carolyn K. Anderson]

Anderson, Jeff. Zooming In and Zooming Out: Putting Grammar in Context into Context. May 28–34

Andrade, Heidi L. The Trouble with a Narrow View of Rubrics (Letters to EJ). July 9

Andrew-Vaughan, Sarah, and Cathy Fleischer. Researching Writing: The Unfamiliar-Genre Research Project. March 36–42

Arnold, Phoebe. [See Beverly, Rose, et al.]

Athanases, Steven Z. Performing the Drama of the Poem: Workshop, Rehearsal, and Reflection. September 88–96

Austin, Sharon L. What Play by a Playwright Other Than Shakespeare Has Been Especially Effective with Your Students? (Teacher to Teacher). September 21–22

Autrey, Tara M., et al. More Than Just a Web Site: Representing Teacher Research through Digital Portfolios. November 65–70

Bancroft, Michael A. No Longer Teaching The Adventures of Huckleberry Finn (Letters to EJ). November 10

Bassett, Lawrence F. Vine Girls (Poetry). May 113

Beaton, Tisha. Harry Potter as a Context for Interdisciplinary Studies (Taking Time). January 100–03

Belanger, Sophie. [See Beverly, Rose, et al.]

Bell, Patricia L. What Play by a Playwright Other Than Shakespeare Has Been Especially Effective with Your Students? (Teacher to Teacher). September 20

Benjamin, Amy. What Is Your Most Compelling Reason for Teaching Grammar? (Teacher to Teacher). May 18

Benke, Nicole. Response Journals: Keeping Students Tuned In during Read-Alouds (Stepping into the Classroom). November 113–15

Bentley, Dick. You Want Fries with That? (Poetry). September 134

Berg, Nicholle Schuelke. Correctness: An Evolutionary Practice (Taking Time). May 98–101

Berger, Joan. Transforming Writers through Grammar Study. May 53–59

Beverly, Rose, et al. Response to Sarah Brooks from Nancie Atwell's Students (Letters to EJ). May 9–10

Bickmore, Steven T. NEH Seminars: Collaborative Communities for Professional Development. November 35–40

Bigelow, Terry Patrick, and Michael J. Vokoun. Stepping into the Classroom. November 113–17, March 100–04, July 84–88

Blake, Cameron. [See Beverly, Rose, et al.]

Blasingame, James, Jr. [See Nilsen, Alleen Pace, James Blasingame Jr., and Ken Donelson]

Bliss, Lincoln. [See Beverly, Rose, et al.]

Bloodgood, Amy. The Power of Youth: How Do We Uncover It? (English in the City). March 97–99

Boone, Randy L. One Day in Class (Poetry). November 128

Boreen, Jean, and Sandra Raymond. How Tashjian and Le Guin Encourage Social Activism in Young Adults. January 69–73

Borsheim, Carlin, and Robert Petrone. Teaching the Research Paper for Local Action. March 78–83

Bowers, Cathy Smith. Syntax (Poetry). May 111

Boyd, Beverly. Runes (Poetry). May 113

Boyd, Fenice B., and Deborah Regan Howe. Teaching Warriors Don't Cry with Other Text Types to Enhance Comprehension. January 61–68

Brant, Jordan. [See Halpin, Brian F., et al.]

Brewbaker, James. Laureate (1960) (Poetry). January 116

Brewbaker, James. Poetry. September 133–36, November 125–28, January 114–17, March 112–15, May 111–14, July 97–100

Briggs, Charlotte. [See Beverly, Rose, et al.]

Bright, Hayley. [See Beverly, Rose, et al.]

Brock, Sara. Night Flight (Poetry). March 113

Brooks, Michelle. The Blade and Wing (Poetry). July 98

Brooks, Sarah J. H. Why I Detest Nancie Atwell (New Voices). January 92–94

Brown, Barbara E. A Variation on the Chapbook: The Book as Art (Stepping into the Classroom). March 100–02

Brown, Bill. A feast of brief hopes (Poetry). July 97

Bruemmer, Katherine Hlavach. Teaching to Biological Gender Preferences in an All-Boys Catholic School. July 37–41

Bush, Jonathan. Keeping New English Teachers "Young": Toward Best Practice in New Teacher Development (Teaching English in the World). November 105–08

Caillouet, Ruth R. Creating Purpose and a Renaissance in Research. March 43–45

Campbell, Keely. [See Halpin, Brian F., et al.]

Carroll, Pamela Sissi. Intelligent Choices for Intelligent Readers (Bold Books for Teenagers). November 121–24

Carroll, Pamela Sissi, with English Education Graduate Students at Florida State University. Learning to View Literature Instruction with Literary Lenses: One Group's Story. January 74–80

Chazanow, Leon. [See Ross, William David, Alyce Hunter, and Leon Chazanow]

Christie, Jonathan. [See Halpin, Brian F., et al.]

Clarke, Lane W. "Talk to the Hand, Girl": Using Texts to Explore Student Voice. January 56–60

Coates, Nathan. Why We Need Neil Simon's Lost in Yonkers. September 23–28

Cohen, Lori, and Leyna Peery. Unveiling Students' Perceptions about Women in Islam. January 20–26

Coleman, Jeff. Sometimes You Stand Alone (Poetry). March 113

Corbett, Mike. Your cheese and salami sandwich (Poetry). July 100

Cosgriff, Robert W. Conversation with a Feral Cat (Poetry). November 128

Cowser, Robert G. An Alien in Tennessee (Poetry). May 111

Crow, Dallas. Prospero on Hay Creek (Poetry). January 116

Crow, Dallas. Visit (Poetry). January 116

Crowell, Elizabeth. Mother and Child with Walkman (Poetry). January 115
Curry, Craig Eldon. Going International: Teaching and Learning Culture from the Outside In. July 23–27
Dacey, Philip. Postcards (Poetry). January 114
Dauenhauer, William. On the End of the Possibility of Children (Poetry). March 115
Dean, Deborah. Strategic Writing: Moving beyond the Classroom Assignment. November 82–88
DeBlase, Gina. Teaching Literature and Language through Guided Discovery and Informal Classroom Drama. September 29–32
Derrico, Regina Dunlavey. Guiding Research: A Collaborative Approach (From the Secondary Section). March 10–11
Donelson, Ken. [See Nilsen, Alleen Pace, James Blasingame Jr., and Ken Donelson]
Doolan, Laura L. [See Jayman, Janetta, et al.]
Downey, Allison L. The Transformative Power of Drama: Bringing Literature and Social Justice to Life. September 33–38
Duer, David. [See Patterson, J. P., and David Duer]
Duffy, Helen M. ¡Sí, Se Puede! Preparing Teachers to Build Leadership among Underserved Students. November 71–76
Dunn, Patricia A. [See Lindblom, Kenneth, and Patricia A. Dunn]
Eagleton, Maya B. [See Guinee, Kathleen, and Maya B. Eagleton]
Early, Margaret. In Memoriam: Richard Alm. November 13
Edington, Cathy O'Berry. [See Autrey, Tara M., et al.]
Ellsesser, Judith B. Grammar Gets Its Groove Back (Tools for Teaching). May 104–06
English Education Students at Florida State University. [See Carroll, Pamela Sissi, with English Education Graduate Students at Florida State University]
Ewell, Janet. Convention Memoir: Bringing a Little "Significance" Back to the Trenches (Snapshots). September 14–16
Felske, Claudia Klein. Beyond the Page: Students as Actor-Readers. September 58–63
Fischer, Jeffrey. Killing at Close Range: A Study in Intertextuality. January 27–31
Fischl, Peter L. Update on the Little Polish Boy (Letters to EJ). November 10
Fisher, Douglas. Responding to Students Who Disclose the Violence in Their Lives. July 65–70
Fleischer, Cathy. [See Andrew-Vaughan, Sarah, and Cathy Fleischer]
Fox, Jennifer A. What Play by a Playwright Other Than Shakespeare Has Been Especially Effective with Your Students? (Teacher to Teacher). September 20–21
Frenkel, Mike. A Holocaust Survivor (Poetry). September 134
Gallo, Don. Bold Books for Teenagers. September 129–32, November 121–24, January 109–13, March 108–11, May 107–10, July 92–96
Gentile, Claudia A. [See Livesay, Mary Ellen, et al.]
Gillespie, Joanne S. Getting Inside S. E. Hinton's The Outsiders. January 44–48
Glowacki, Richard. While Auditing a College Myth Course, a Recently Divorced Woman Responds (Poetry). January 115
Gold, David. "But When Do You Teach Grammar?" Allaying Community Concerns about Pedagogy. July 42–47
Goldman, Dan. [See Halpin, Brian F., et al.]
Graves, Alex. [See Beverly, Rose, et al.]
Greco, Norma. I Think I'm Falling in Love with This Novel. July 48–51
Grey, John. I'm In a Foreign Marketplace (Poetry). May 113
Grierson, Sirpa T. Finding Significance: Applying Louise Rosenblatt's Theories to Practice (Tools for Teaching). January 106–08
Guinee, Kathleen, and Maya B. Eagleton. Spinning Straw into Gold: Transforming Information into Knowledge during Web-Based Research. March 46–52
Halpin, Brian F., et al. Literature: An Exercise in Futility or the Way to Save the World? July 28–32
Hamilton, Greg. English in the City. November 109–12, March 97–99
Hanak, Donna W. Altering Ways of Being in a Language Arts Classroom. November 30–34
Heckathorne, John Paul. Temptation and Regret (Poetry). January 117
Henning, Teresa B. Using Scenarios to Reflect on Research Papers (Stepping into the Classroom). March 102–04
Hicks, Troy. [See Autrey, Tara M., et al.]
Holt, Stephen. Filling Orders (Poetry). May 112
Holt, Stephen. In Eudora Welty's Book of WPA Photographs (Poetry). May 112
Hoover, Michael J. [See Jayman, Janetta, et al.]
Howe, Deborah Regan. [See Boyd, Fenice B., and Deborah Regan Howe]
Huckabee, Heidi. Bio Buddies (Stepping into the Classroom). July 86–88
Huff, Dana. Toward "Moral Perfection": Integrating Judaic Concepts and Benjamin Franklin's Autobiography. July 33–36
Hunt, Bud. [See Hunt, Tiffany J., and Bud Hunt]
Hunt, Tiffany J., and Bud Hunt. New Voices. September 113–15, November 101–04, January 92–95, March 89–92, May 88–92, July 76–79
Hunter, Alyce. [See Ross, William David, Alyce Hunter, and Leon Chazanow]
Hurlow, Marcia L. The Abandoned Reservoir (Poetry). November 127
Hurlow, Marcia L. Apples (Poetry). November 127
Hutchinson, Darren. Holding Students Accountable (Letters to EJ). May 10–11
Hylton, Jaime. Slow Suicide (Poetry). January 114
Jaeger, Anna. [See Beverly, Rose, et al.]
Jago, Carol. What Is Your Most Compelling Reason for Teaching Grammar? (Teacher to Teacher). May 18–19
Jayman, Janetta, et al. Sentence Patterns: Making Meaning with a Countywide Grammar Initiative. May 41–47
Johannessen, Larry R. [See McCann, Thomas M., and Larry R. Johannessen]
Johnson, Walter H. The Sentence-Structure Dilemma (Speaking My Mind). January 14–15
Kabodian, Aram. [See Autrey, Tara M., et al.]
Kaminer, Tracy. Eleven (Poetry). March 114
Kaminer, Tracy. Letters (Poetry). March 114
Keil, Katherine. Rediscovering the Joy of Poetry. September 97–102
Kerwin, Brad. In Memoriam: Richard Alm. November 12–13
Kesner, Leilani Barnett. Where in the World Is My English Teacher? Travel as Professional Development. November 25–29
Kessler, Kate. Composing for Delivery. November 89–96
Kohn, Alfie. The Trouble with Rubrics (Speaking My Mind). March 12–15
Kolln, Martha. What Is Your Most Compelling Reason for Teaching Grammar? (Teacher to Teacher). May 19
Kuo, Andrew. There Is Never Only One True Face (Personal Reading). November 118–20
Landay, Eileen. Give Me Moor Proof: Othello in Seventh Grade. September 39–46
Lankford, Drew. Finding Love (Poetry). May 114
Lankford, Drew. Surprise (Poetry). May 114
Leon, Karen. Displaying Short-Story Collections in Libraries (Letters to EJ). May 9
Lerg, Nicole. [See Autrey, Tara M., et al.]
Lifshin, Lyn. Tibet Woman (Poetry). January 114
Lindblom, Kenneth. Teaching English in the World. September 116–19, November 105–08, January 96–99, March 93–96, May 93–97, July 80–83
Lindblom, Kenneth, and Patricia A. Dunn. Analyzing Grammar Rants: An Alternative to Traditional Grammar Instruction. May 71–77
Lindsley, Cameron. [See Beverly, Rose, et al.]
Livesay, Mary Ellen, et al. Collaborative Learning Communities: Building Leadership in a High School English Department (From the Secondary Section). November 16–18
Locklear, Agathaniki (Niki). The Top Ten Reasons to Join Us in Pittsburgh (From the Secondary Section). September 12–13
LoMonico, Michael. Close Reading on Your Feet: Performance in the English Language Arts Classroom (Teaching English in the World). September 116–19

Luft-Gardner, Rebecca. [See Autrey, Tara M., et al.]
Luftig, Richard. City Deer (Poetry). March 115
Luftig, Richard. Directions (Poetry). March 115
Luther, Jason. I-Searching in Context: Thinking Critically about the Research Unit. March 68–74
Lyman, Huntington. I-Search in the Age of Information. March 62–67
Maas, Shannon. [See Jayman, Janetta, et al.]
Manear, John. School Life (From the Secondary Section). July 13–14
Martin, Jack. In a Basement (Poetry). November 125
Mason, Yvonne. Confronting the Theme of Power (Teaching English in the World). January 96–97
Maxmin, Chloë. [See Beverly, Rose, et al.]
McCann, Thomas M., and Larry R. Johannessen. The Role and Responsibility of the Experienced Teacher. November 52–57
McClain, Melissa. Rediscovering the Artist, Reinvigorating the Self, Reinventing the Teacher. November 47–51
McCurrie, Kilian. A Literacy of Involvement: Bringing Together Service and Learning in Parochial Schools (Teaching English in the World). July 80–83
McHugh, Thomas [See Jayman, Janetta, et al.]
McKechnie, Tess. [See Beverly, Rose, et al.]
Meiklejohn, Julie. Dynamic Characters: A Year in the Life of Fourth Hour (Snapshots). July 15–16
Merritt, Alexander. One Man's Will (Personal Reading). July 89–91
Michalak, Donna. To the Wicked Witch (Poetry). November 126
Miller, Nate. [See Beverly, Rose, et al.]
Mohyuddin, Faisal. Peer Editing (Poetry). November 125
Mooney, Kevin J. [See Jayman, Janetta, et al.]
Moore, Carol Ann. [See Livesay, Mary Ellen, et al.]
Muller, Valerie. Film as Film: Using Movies to Help Students Visualize Literary Theory. January 32–38
Musick, Jo Anne. Research à la Carte. March 58–61
Neary, Ann. Hooking Readers with Short Stories (Letters to EJ). May 9
Nelms, Ben F. In Memoriam: Richard Alm. November 11–12
Neulieb, Janice Witherspoon. Language Issues (Letters to EJ). May 11
Newkirk, Thomas. The New Writing Assessments: Where Are They Leading Us? (Speaking My Mind). November 21–22
Nilsen, Alleen Pace, James Blasingame Jr., and Ken Donelson. 2004 Honor List: An Encouraging Illustration of Extended Horizons. September 103–08
Noden, Harry. What Is Your Most Compelling Reason for Teaching Grammar? (Teacher to Teacher). May 19
Northen, Michael. Teaching Plato at a School in Camden (Poetry). January 117
Null, Linda, and Suellen Alfred. Personal Reading. November 118–20, March 105–07, July 89–91
O'Donnell-Allen, Cindy. Pedagogical Recycling: How Colleagues Change Colleagues' Minds. November 58–64
Ogden, Kirsten. Coming Storm (Poetry). May 114
Ogden, Kirsten. Raggedy Ann (Poetry). May 114
Ohrstrom, Barbara. Visibility: How Instructors Can Ameliorate Depression (Speaking My Mind). November 23–24
O'Malley, Tom. The Dangerous Profession (Teaching English in the World). March 93–96
Paraskevas, Cornelia. Grammar Apprenticeship. May 65–70
Patterson, J. P., and David Duer. High School Teaching and College Expectations in Writing and Reading. January 81–87
Patterson, Nancy. What Is Your Most Compelling Reason for Teaching Grammar? (Teacher to Teacher). May 19–20
Peery, Leyna. [See Cohen, Lori, and Leyna Peery]
Pegram, David M. "What If?" Teaching Research and Creative-Thinking Skills through Proposal Writing. March 18–22
Penha, James. What Is Your Most Compelling Reason for Teaching Grammar? (Teacher to Teacher). May 20
Perry, Tonya. Taking Time. September 120–23, January 100–03, May 98–101
Petrone, Robert. [See Borsheim, Carlin, and Robert Petrone]
Pfaffinger, Kathryn A. Research Paper Baby Steps. March 75–77
Phillips, Louis. On the Perils of Teaching the History of the English Language (Poetry). January 117
Phillips, Louis. The Iraqis Are in Iraq and the Iroquois Are in New York (Poetry). January 117
Porter, Karen R. the dogs of pompeii (Poetry). March 112
Porter, Karen. treasure bag (Poetry). March 112
Poston, David E. All Day It Snowed and through the Night (Poetry). July 100
Poston, David E. Frost (Poetry). July 100
Provan, Bella. [See Beverly, Rose, et al.]
Quinn, Anna. Reading between the Lines: Strategies to Discover Meaning from a Text. September 47–51
Rallo, Curt. What Text Have You Found Most Successful with Your Students? (Teacher to Teacher). January 16–17
Ray, David. On the Ice (Poetry). September 133
Ray, David. The Perks of 1940 (Poetry). September 133
Raymond, Sandra. [See Boreen, Jean, and Sandra Raymond]
Ray, Wyatt. [See Beverly, Rose, et al.]
Reid, Louann. From the Editor. September 10–11, November 14–15, January 9–10, March 9, May 12–14, July 10–12
Reinbold, Gregor. Lheureux (Poetry). September 136
Ressler, Paula. Challenging Normative Sexual and Gender Identity Beliefs through Romeo and Juliet. September 52–57
Rhoades, Brady. 40 (Poetry). May 112
Riendeau, Michael. [See Halpin, Brian F., et al.]
Rimmer, Patricia. What Play by a Playwright Other Than Shakespeare Has Been Especially Effective with Your Students? (Teacher to Teacher). September 21
Robbins, Bruce. Using The Original Approach to Teach Shakespeare. September 65–68
Roberts, Jan Vallone. A Greater Peace (Snapshots). July 17–19
Roessing, Lesley J. What Text Have You Found Most Successful with Your Students? (Teacher to Teacher). January 17
Romano, Tom. Where Keats Lives (Poetry). March 112
Rosewarne, Tracy. [See Sipe, Rebecca Bowers, and Tracy Rosewarne]
Ross, William David, Alyce Hunter, and Leon Chazanow. Reading Aloud: The Moby-Dick Marathon. January 39–43
Rottenberg, David Ira. Saturday Matinee (Poetry). September 134
Rowland, Louis W. Jumping Genres: Getting Students Involved with Poetry (Stepping into the Classroom). November 115–17
Rucker, Julie. Inquiry, Independence, and Grammar (Tools for Teaching). May 103–04
Ruggieri, Colleen A. Tools for Teaching. September 124–28, January 104–08, May 102–06
Russo, Anne. [See Autrey, Tara M., et al.]
Schraffenberger, J. D. When Winter Comes (Poetry). November 126
Schramm, Thom. Gossip (Poetry). November 126
Schuster, Edgar H. A Fresh Look at Sentence Fragments. May 78–83
Schwarz, Gretchen. Expanding Literacies through Graphic Novels. July 58–64
Shanley, Roger W. Novel Choices, Pun Intended (From the Secondary Section). January 11–13
Shosh, Joseph M. Wrighting: Crafting Critical Literacy through Drama. September 69–74
Shosh, Joseph M., and Charlotte Rappe Zales. Daring to Teach Writing Authentically, K–12 and Beyond. November 77–81
Simmons, Eileen. The Grammars of Reading. May 48–52
Simmons, Patricia O. Red-Bellied Woodpecker (Poetry). November 128
Simpson, Julia Meylor. What a Ghost Feels (Poetry). July 99
Sipe, Rebecca Bowers. Grammar Matters (From the Secondary Section). May 15–17
Sipe, Rebecca Bowers, and Tracy Rosewarne. Learning to Love the Questions: Professional Growth and Perspective Transformations. November 41–46

Sjolie, Dennis. Phrase and Clause Grammar Tactics for the ESL/ELL Writing Classroom. May 35–40
Sklar, Dan. Canoes (Poetry). January 116
Small, Robert C., Jr. Strange Creatures (Bold Books for Teenagers). September 129–32
Smallwood, Carol. Car Wash (Poetry). January 115
Smallwood, Carol. The Circulatory System (Poetry). September 135
Smallwood, Carol. Fairy Shrimp (Poetry). September 135
Smallwood, Carol. Probate (Poetry). January 115
Smallwood, Carol. Sand (Poetry). September 135
Smith, Dean R. Lot's Lament (Poetry). March 113
Smith, Joellen P. Maintaining High Expectations (Letters to EJ). May 10
Smith, Kerri. In Defense of the Five-Paragraph Essay (Speaking My Mind). March 16–17
Smith, Michael W., and Jeffrey D. Wilhelm. What Is Your Most Compelling Reason for Teaching Grammar? (Teacher to Teacher). May 20
Sortino, Phil. [See Halpin, Brian F., et al.]
Speaker, Tracy, and Carolyn K. Anderson. A Time of Change: Research and the 1960s. March 28–29
Spireng, Matthew J. Early Memory: Reading (Poetry). September 136
Spireng, Matthew J. The Gift (Poetry). July 97
Spireng, Matthew J. Young Farmer Remembers School (Poetry). September 136
Stanford, Barbara. "Somebody Died?" Using Grammar to Construct Meaning in Adolescent Literature. May 60–64
Stankay, Roger J. [See Livesay, Mary Ellen, et al.]
Stephens, Rebecca. [See Autrey, Tara M., et al.]
Strever, Ian A. Loss for Words (Poetry). November 128
Sturgill, Erich. Adolescents and Global Issues (Teaching English in the World). January 97–98
Styslinger, Mary E. Multigenre-Multigendered Research Papers. March 53–57
Sutherland, Tracy. Orwell Farmed for Education (Speaking My Mind). September 17–19
Taylor, Kristin A. Letters from the Past (Snapshots). November 19–20
Teitelbaum, Deb. Why Is the Sky Blue? Using Children's Questions to Motivate Research. March 30–35
Thomas, P. L. Languages We Don't Understand: Considering America through Words Born of Ashes (Teaching English in the World). January 96, 99
Tieman, John Samuel. how to go blind (Poetry). November 126
Tremmel, Robert. Classroom Ecosystem (Poetry). November 127
Urquhart, Troy. On Hughie Lee-Smith's Girl with Bouquet (Poetry). September 134
VanDeWeghe, Rick. Research Matters. September 109–12, November 97–100, January 88–91, March 84–88, May 84–87, July 71–75
Vogelsinger, Brett. Blind Mice and a Motive—Studying Agatha Christie's The Mousetrap (New Voices). September 113–15
Vokoun, Michael J. Looking at Themselves Allows Them to Grow (Stepping into the Classroom). July 84–86
Vokoun, Michael J. [See Bigelow, Terry Patrick, and Michael J. Vokoun]
Waff, Diane. [See Livesay, Mary Ellen, et al.]
Walton, Grace. [See Beverly, Rose, et al.]
Wanket, Maureen O'Leary. Falling Out of Like (EJ Extra). January 18–19
Ward, David. "Indefinable Stirrings and Longings": Research on Writing through Student Letters to Authors. January 49–55
Warne, Bonnie Mary. Teaching Conventions in a State-Mandated Testing Context. May 22–27
Waters, Chris. March 10 (Poetry). July 98
Waters, Mary Jean. [See Livesay, Mary Ellen, et al.]
Weaver, Constance. What Is Your Most Compelling Reason for Teaching Grammar? (Teacher to Teacher). May 20–21
Webb, Mary Ellen. Harrypotterfakeritis (Poetry). March 114
Weltsek, Gustave. Using Process Drama to Deconstruct A Midsummer Night's Dream. September 75–81
Wertz, Jessica A. Engaging Students in Your Absence: An Open Letter to English Teachers (Speaking My Mind). July 20–22
Wheeler, Rebecca S. What Is Your Most Compelling Reason for Teaching Grammar? (Teacher to Teacher). May 21
White, Kelley Jean. Naughty Lady (Poetry). September 135
White, Kelley Jean. Running Dogs, Deer (Poetry). July 99
White, Simon. [See Halpin, Brian F., et al.]
Whitney, Jason. Mom Dad Buddy and Sis Stories: A Drama and Fiction Writing Workshop. July 52–57
Whittington, Elizabeth Jane. Wendy (Poetry). September 135
Wilhelm, Jeffrey D. [See Smith, Michael W., and Jeffrey D. Wilhelm]
Williams, Nathaniel. [See Beverly, Rose, et al.]
Wirtz, Jason. Creating Possibilities: Embedding Research into Creative Writing. March 23–27
Young, Kelvin. In Memoriam: Richard Alm. November 12
Zales, Charlotte Rappe. [See Shosh, Joseph M., and Charlotte Rappe Zales]
Zepp, Alan P. [See Jayman, Janetta, et al.]
Zheng, Jianqing. Question (Poetry). July 99
Zheng, Jianqing. Reading (Poetry). July 99
Zumhagen, Patricia. Using Improvisational Workshop to Explore Gender Issues in "The Untold Lie." September 82–87
Zydek, Fredrick. What I Plan to Take Beyond the Grave (Poetry). July 98

Title Index

40 (Poetry). Brady Rhoades. May 112
2004 Honor List: An Encouraging Illustration of Extended Horizons. Alleen Pace Nilsen, James Blasingame Jr., and Ken Donelson. September 103–08
Abandoned Reservoir, The (Poetry). Marcia L. Hurlow. November 127
Adolescents and Global Issues (Teaching English in the World). Erich Sturgill. January 97–98
Afterthought: Our Love/Hate Relationships with the Experts (New Voices). Tiffany J. Hunt and Bud Hunt. January 94–95
Alien in Tennessee, An (Poetry). Robert G. Cowser. May 111
All Day It Snowed and through the Night (Poetry). David E. Poston. July 100
Altering Ways of Being in a Language Arts Classroom. Donna W. Hanak. November 30–34
Analyzing Grammar Rants: An Alternative to Traditional Grammar Instruction. Kenneth Lindblom and Patricia A. Dunn. May 71–77
Apples (Poetry). Marcia L. Hurlow. November 127
Author Surfing: Riding the Waves of the World Wide Web (Tools for Teaching). Colleen A. Ruggieri. January 108
Beyond Memorization: Using Drama to Promote Thinking (Taking Time). Tonya Perry. September 120–23
Beyond the Page: Students as Actor-Readers. Claudia Klein Felske. September 58–63
Bio Buddies (Stepping into the Classroom). Heidi Huckabee. July 86–88
Blade and Wing, The (Poetry). Michelle Brooks. July 98
Blind Mice and a Motive—Studying Agatha Christie's The Mousetrap (New Voices). Brett Vogelsinger. September 113–15
Bold Books for Teenagers. Don Gallo. September 129–32, November 121–24, January 109–13, March 108–11, May 107–10, July 92–96
"But When Do You Teach Grammar?" Allaying Community Concerns about Pedagogy. David Gold. July 42–47
Canoes (Poetry). Dan Sklar. January 116
Car Wash (Poetry). Carol Smallwood. January 115
Challenging Normative Sexual and Gender Identity Beliefs through Romeo and Juliet. Paula Ressler. September 52–57
Circulatory System, The (Poetry). Carol Smallwood. September 135

City Deer (Poetry). Richard Luftig. March 115
Classroom Ecosystem (Poetry). Robert Tremmel. November 127
Close Reading on Your Feet: Performance in the English Language Arts Classroom (Teaching English in the World). Michael LoMonico. September 116–19
Collaborative Learning Communities: Building Leadership in a High School English Department (From the Secondary Section). Mary Ellen Livesay, et al. November 16–18
Coming Storm (Poetry). Kirsten Ogden. May 114
Composing for Delivery. Kate Kessler. November 89–96
Confronting the Theme of Power (Teaching English in the World). Yvonne Mason. January 96–97
Convention Memoir: Bringing a Little "Significance" Back to the Trenches (Snapshots). Janet Ewell. September 14–16
Conversation with a Feral Cat (Poetry). Robert W. Cosgriff. November 128
Correctness: An Evolutionary Practice (Taking Time). Nicholle Schuelke Berg. May 98–101
Creating Possibilities: Embedding Research into Creative Writing. Jason Wirtz. March 23–27
Creating Purpose and a Renaissance in Research. Ruth R. Caillouet. March 43–45
Dangerous Profession, The (Teaching English in the World). Tom O'Malley. March 93–96
Daring to Teach Writing Authentically, K–12 and Beyond. Joseph M. Shosh and Charlotte Rappe Zales. November 77–81
Deep Modeling and Authentic Teaching: Challenging Students or Challenging Students? (Research Matters). Rick VanDeWeghe. March 84–88
Demystifying Drama (Tools for Teaching). Colleen A. Ruggieri. September 124–28
Directions (Poetry). Richard Luftig. March 115
Displaying Short-Story Collections in Libraries (Letters to EJ). Karen Leon. May 9 dogs of pompeii, the (Poetry). Karen R. Porter. March 112
Dynamic Characters: A Year in the Life of Fourth Hour (Snapshots). Julie Meiklejohn. July 15–16
Early Memory: Reading (Poetry). Matthew J. Spireng. September 136
Eleven (Poetry). Tracy Kaminer. March 114
Engaging Students in Your Absence: An Open Letter to English Teachers (Speaking My Mind). Jessica A. Wertz. July 20–22
English in the City. Greg Hamilton. November 109–12, March 97–99
Expanding Literacies through Graphic Novels. Gretchen Schwarz. July 58–64
Fairy Shrimp (Poetry). Carol Smallwood. September 135
Falling Out of Like (EJ Extra). Maureen O'Leary Wanket. January 18–19 feast of brief hopes, A (Poetry). Bill Brown. July 97
Filling Orders (Poetry). Stephen Holt. May 112
Film as Film: Using Movies to Help Students Visualize Literary Theory. Valerie Muller. January 32–38
Finding Love (Poetry). Drew Lankford. May 114
Finding Significance: Applying Louise Rosenblatt's Theories to Practice (Tools for Teaching). Sirpa T. Grierson. January 106–08
Fresh Look at Sentence Fragments, A. Edgar H. Schuster. May 78–83
From Page to Stage: A Guide for Making It Happen (Tools for Teaching). Colleen A. Ruggieri. January 106
From the Editor. Louann Reid. September 10–11, November 14–15, January 9–10, March 9, May 12–14, July 10–12
Frost (Poetry). David E. Poston. July 100
Getting a Grip on Grammar Instruction (Tools for Teaching). Colleen A. Ruggieri. May 102–06
Getting Inside S. E. Hinton's The Outsiders. Joanne S. Gillespie. January 44–48
Gift, The (Poetry). Matthew J. Spireng. July 97
Give Me Moor Proof: Othello in Seventh Grade. Eileen Landay. September 39–46
Going International: Teaching and Learning Culture from the Outside In. Craig Eldon Curry. July 23–27
Gossip (Poetry). Thom Schramm. November 126
Grammar Apprenticeship. Cornelia Paraskevas. May 65–70
Grammar Gets Its Groove Back (Tools for Teaching). Judith B. Ellsesser. May 104–06
Grammar Matters (From the Secondary Section). Rebecca Bowers Sipe. May 15–17
Grammars of Reading, The. Eileen Simmons. May 48–52
Greater Peace, A (Snapshots). Jan Vallone Roberts. July 17–19
Guiding Research: A Collaborative Approach (From the Secondary Section). Regina Dunlavey Derrico. March 10–11
Harry Potter as a Context for Interdisciplinary Studies (Taking Time). Tisha Beaton. January 100–03
Harrypotterfakeritis (Poetry). Mary Ellen Webb. March 114
Help! Reflections, Research, and Resources about Authors and Their Texts (Tools for Teaching). Colleen A. Ruggieri. January 104–08
High School Teaching and College Expectations in Writing and Reading. J. P. Patterson and David Duer. January 81–87
Holding Students Accountable (Letters to EJ). Darren Hutchinson. May 10–11
Holocaust Survivor, A (Poetry). Mike Frenkel. September 134
Hooking Readers with Short Stories (Letters to EJ). Ann Neary. May 9
How Tashjian and Le Guin Encourage Social Activism in Young Adults. Jean Boreen and Sandra Raymond. January 69–73 how to go blind (Poetry). John Samuel Tieman. November 126
I'm In a Foreign Marketplace (Poetry). John Grey. May 113
In a Basement (Poetry). Jack Martin. November 125
In Defense of the Five-Paragraph Essay (Speaking My Mind). Kerri Smith. March 16–17
"Indefinable Stirrings and Longings": Research on Writing through Student Letters to Authors. David Ward. January 49–55
In Eudora Welty's Book of WPA Photographs (Poetry). Stephen Holt. May 112
In Memoriam: Richard Alm. Ben F. Nelms; Kelvin Young; Brad Kerwin; Margaret Early. November 11–13
Inquiry, Independence, and Grammar (Tools for Teaching). Julie Rucker. May 103–04
Inside or Out: Reflection Lets Us See More of Ourselves (Stepping into the Classroom). Terry Patrick Bigelow and Michael J. Vokoun. July 84–88
Intelligent Choices for Intelligent Readers (Bold Books for Teenagers). Pamela Sissi Carroll. November 121–24
Interpretive Norms in Literature Discussions (Research Matters). Rick VanDeWeghe. May 84–87
Iraqis Are in Iraq and the Iroquois Are in New York, The (Poetry). Louis Phillips. January 117
I-Searching in Context: Thinking Critically about the Research Unit. Jason Luther. March 68–74
I-Search in the Age of Information. Huntington Lyman. March 62–67
I Think I'm Falling in Love with This Novel. Norma Greco. July 48–51
Jumping Genres: Getting Students Involved with Poetry (Stepping into the Classroom). Louis W. Rowland. November 115–17
Keeping New English Teachers "Young": Toward Best Practice in New Teacher Development (Teaching English in the World). Jonathan Bush. November 105–08
Keeping the Learner in Mind (Stepping into the Classroom). Terry Patrick Bigelow and Michael J. Vokoun. March 100–04
Killing at Close Range: A Study in Intertextuality. Jeffrey Fischer. January 27–31
Language Issues (Letters to EJ). Janice Witherspoon Neulieb. May 11
Languages We Don't Understand: Considering America through Words Born of Ashes (Teaching English in the World). P. L. Thomas. January 96, 99
Laureate (1960) (Poetry). James Brewbaker. January 116
Learning from the Arts (Research Matters). Rick VanDeWeghe. July 71–75
Learning to Love the Questions: Professional Growth and Perspective Transformations. Rebecca Bowers Sipe and Tracy Rosewarne. November 41–46

Learning to View Literature Instruction with Literary Lenses: One Group's Story. Pamela Sissi Carroll with English Education Graduate Students at Florida State University. January 74–80
Letters (Poetry). Tracy Kaminer. March 114
Letters from the Past (Snapshots). Kristin A. Taylor. November 19–20
Lheureux (Poetry). Gregor Reinbold. September 136
Literacy of Involvement, A: Bringing Together Service and Learning in Parochial Schools (Teaching English in the World). Kilian McCurrie. July 80–83
Literature: An Exercise in Futility or the Way to Save the World? Brian F. Halpin, et al. July 28–32
Looking at Themselves Allows Them to Grow (Stepping into the Classroom). Michael J. Vokoun. July 84–86
Loss for Words (Poetry). Ian A. Strever. November 128
Lot's Lament (Poetry). Dean R. Smith. March 113
Maintaining High Expectations (Letters to EJ). Joellen P. Smith. May 10
March 10 (Poetry). Chris Waters. July 98
Mind with a View, A (Personal Reading). Linda Null and Suellen Alfred. March 105–07
Mom Dad Buddy and Sis Stories: A Drama and Fiction Writing Workshop. Jason Whitney. July 52–57
More Than Just a Web Site: Representing Teacher Research through Digital Portfolios. Tara M. Autrey et al. November 65–70
Mother and Child with Walkman (Poetry). Elizabeth Crowell. January 115
Multigenre-Multigendered Research Papers. Mary E. Styslinger. March 53–57
Naughty Lady (Poetry). Kelley Jean White. September 135
NEH Seminars: Collaborative Communities for Professional Development. Steven T. Bickmore. November 35–40
New Teacher's Guide to Professional Development, A (New Voices). Tiffany J. Hunt and Bud Hunt. November 101–04
New Voices. Tiffany J. Hunt and Bud Hunt. September 113–15, November 101–04, January 92–95, March 89–92, May 88–92, July 76–79
New Writing Assessments, The: Where Are They Leading Us? (Speaking My Mind). Thomas Newkirk. November 21–22
Night Flight (Poetry). Sara Brock. March 113
No Longer Teaching The Adventures of Huckleberry Finn (Letters to EJ). Michael A. Bancroft. November 10
Novel Choices, Pun Intended (From the Secondary Section). Roger W. Shanley. January 11–13
One Day in Class (Poetry). Randy L. Boone. November 128
One Man's Will (Personal Reading). Alexander Merritt. July 89–91
On Hughie Lee-Smith's Girl with Bouquet (Poetry). Troy Urquhart. September 134
On the End of the Possibility of Children (Poetry). William Dauenhauer. March 115
On the Ice (Poetry). David Ray. September 133
On the Perils of Teaching the History of the English Language (Poetry). Louis Phillips. January 117
Orwell Farmed for Education (Speaking My Mind). Tracy Sutherland. September 17–19
Pedagogical Recycling: How Colleagues Change Colleagues' Minds. Cindy O'Donnell-Allen. November 58–64
Peer Editing (Poetry). Faisal Mohyuddin. November 125
Performing the Drama of the Poem: Workshop, Rehearsal, and Reflection. Steven Z. Athanases. September 88–96
Perks of 1940, The (Poetry). David Ray. September 133
Personal Reading. Linda Null and Suellen Alfred. November 118–20, March 105–07, July 89–91
Phrase and Clause Grammar Tactics for the ESL/ELL Writing Classroom. Dennis Sjolie. May 35–40
Poetry. James Brewbaker. September 133–36, November 125–28, January 114–17, March 112–15, May 111–14, July 97–100
Postcards (Poetry). Philip Dacey. January 114
Power of Youth, The: How Do We Uncover It? (English in the City). March 97–99
Probate (Poetry). Carol Smallwood. January 115
"Process Teaching" and Content Feedback on Students' Drafts (Research Matters). Rick VanDeWeghe. September 109–12
Prospero on Hay Creek (Poetry). Dallas Crow. January 116
Question (Poetry). Jianqing Zheng. July 99
Raggedy Ann (Poetry). Kirsten Ogden. May 114
Reading (Poetry). Jianqing Zheng. July 99
Reading Aloud: The Moby-Dick Marathon. William David Ross, Alyce Hunter, and Leon Chazanow. January 39–43
Reading between the Lines: Strategies to Discover Meaning from a Text. Anna Quinn. September 47–51
Red-Bellied Woodpecker (Poetry). Patricia O. Simmons. November 128
Rediscovering the Artist, Reinvigorating the Self, Reinventing the Teacher. Melissa McClain. November 47–51
Rediscovering the Joy of Poetry. Katherine Keil. September 97–102
Research à la Carte. Jo Anne Musick. March 58–61
Research and Authority in an Online World: Who Knows? Who Decides? (New Voices). Tiffany J. Hunt and Bud Hunt. March 89–92
Researching Writing: The Unfamiliar-Genre Research Project. Sarah Andrew-Vaughan and Cathy Fleischer. March 36–42
Research Matters. Rick VanDeWeghe. September 109–12, November 97–100, January 88–91, March 84–88, May 84–87, July 71–75
Research Paper Baby Steps. Kathryn A. Pfaffinger. March 75–77
Responding to Students Who Disclose the Violence in Their Lives. Douglas Fisher. July 65–70
Response Journals: Keeping Students Tuned In during Read-Alouds (Stepping into the Classroom). Nicole Benke. November 113–15
Response to Sarah Brooks from Nancie Atwell's Students (Letters to EJ). Rose Beverly et al. May 9–10
Revelation Regarding the Potential Benefits of Low Expectations, A (New Voices). Tiffany J. Hunt and Bud Hunt. July 76–79
Role and Responsibility of the Experienced Teacher, The. Thomas M. McCann and Larry R. Johannessen. November 52–57
Runes (Poetry). Beverly Boyd. May 113
Running Dogs, Deer (Poetry). Kelley Jean White. July 99
Sage Advice Makes Life That Much Sweeter (Stepping into the Classroom). Terry Patrick Bigelow and Michael J. Vokoun. November 113–17
Sand (Poetry). Carol Smallwood. September 135
Saturday Matinee (Poetry). David Ira Rottenberg. September 134
School Life (From the Secondary Section). John Manear. July 13–14
Sentence Patterns: Making Meaning with a Countywide Grammar Initiative. Janetta Jayman et al. May 41–47
Sentence-Structure Dilemma, The (Speaking My Mind). Walter H. Johnson. January 14–15
Sharing Perspectives on Staff Development (English in the City). Greg Hamilton. November 109–12
Significance of Shakespeare, The (Tools for Teaching). Colleen A. Ruggieri. January 104–06
¡Sí, Se Puede! Preparing Teachers to Build Leadership among Underserved Students. Helen M. Duffy. November 71–76
Slow Suicide (Poetry). Jaime Hylton. January 114
"Somebody Died?" Using Grammar to Construct Meaning in Adolescent Literature. Barbara Stanford. May 60–64
Sometimes You Stand Alone (Poetry). Jeff Coleman. March 113
"So, What's Political about It?" (Teaching English in the World). Catherine Adams. January 98–99
Spinning Straw into Gold: Transforming Information into Knowledge during Web-Based Research. Kathleen Guinee and Maya B. Eagleton. March 46–52
Stepping into the Classroom. Terry Patrick Bigelow and Michael J. Vokoun. November 113–17, March 100–04, July 84–88

Strange Creatures (Bold Books for Teenagers). Robert C. Small Jr. September 129–32
Strategic Writing: Moving beyond the Classroom Assignment. Deborah Dean. November 82–88
Summer Reading 2006 (Bold Books for Teenagers). Don Gallo. July 92–96
Surprise (Poetry). Drew Lankford. May 114
Syntax (Poetry). Cathy Smith Bowers. May 111
Taking Time. Tonya Perry. September 120–23, January 100–03, May 98–101
"Talk to the Hand, Girl": Using Texts to Explore Student Voice. Lane W. Clarke. January 56–60
Teaching Conventions in a State-Mandated Testing Context. Bonnie Mary Warne. May 22–27
Teaching English in the World. Kenneth Lindblom. September 116–19, November 105–08, January 96–99, March 93–96, May 93–97, July 80–83
Teaching Literature and Language through Guided Discovery and Informal Classroom Drama. Gina DeBlase. September 29–32
Teaching Plato at a School in Camden (Poetry). Michael Northen. January 117
Teaching the Research Paper for Local Action. Carlin Borsheim and Robert Petrone. March 78–83
Teaching to Biological Gender Preferences in an All-Boys Catholic School. Katherine Hlavach Bruemmer. July 37–41
Teaching Warriors Don't Cry with Other Text Types to Enhance Comprehension. Fenice B. Boyd and Deborah Regan Howe. January 61–68
Temptation and Regret (Poetry). John Paul Heckathorne. January 117
There Is Never Only One True Face (Personal Reading). Andrew Kuo. November 118–20
Tibet Woman (Poetry). Lyn Lifshin. January 114
Time of Change, A: Research and the 1960s. Tracy Speaker and Carolyn K. Anderson. March 28–29
Tools for Teaching. Colleen A. Ruggieri. September 124–28, January 104–08, May 102–06
Top Ten Reasons to Join Us in Pittsburgh, The (From the Secondary Section). Agathaniki (Niki) Locklear. September 12–13
To the Wicked Witch (Poetry). Donna Michalak. November 126
Toward "Moral Perfection": Integrating Judaic Concepts and Benjamin Franklin's Autobiography. Dana Huff. July 33–36
Transformative Power of Drama, The: Bringing Literature and Social Justice to Life. Allison L. Downey. September 33–38
Transforming Writers through Grammar Study. Joan Berger. May 53–59 treasure bag (Poetry). Karen Porter. March 112
Trouble with a Narrow View of Rubrics, The (Letters to EJ). Heidi L. Andrade. July 9
Trouble with Rubrics, The (Speaking My Mind). Alfie Kohn. March 12–15
Unintelligent Design: Where Does the Obsession with Correct Grammar Come From? (Teaching English in the World). Kenneth Lindblom. May 93–97
Unveiling Students' Perceptions about Women in Islam. Lori Cohen and Leyna Peery. January 20–26
Update on the Little Polish Boy (Letters to EJ). Peter L. Fischl. November 10
Using Improvisational Workshop to Explore Gender Issues in "The Untold Lie." Patricia Zumhagen. September 82–87
Using Process Drama to Deconstruct A Midsummer Night's Dream. Gustave Weltsek. September 75–81
Using Scenarios to Reflect on Research Papers (Stepping into the Classroom). Teresa B. Henning. March 102–04
Using The Original Approach to Teach Shakespeare. Bruce Robbins. September 65–68
Variation on the Chapbook, A: The Book as Art (Stepping into the Classroom). Barbara E. Brown. March 100–02
Very Best Possibilities, The (Bold Books for Teenagers). Don Gallo. March 108–11
Very Best Possibilities, Part Two, The (Bold Books for Teenagers). Don Gallo. May 107–10
Vine Girls (Poetry). Lawrence F. Bassett. May 113
Visibility: How Instructors Can Ameliorate Depression (Speaking My Mind). Barbara Ohrstrom. November 23–24
Visit (Poetry). Dallas Crow. January 116
Wendy (Poetry). Elizabeth Jane Whittington. September 135
What a Ghost Feels (Poetry). Julia Meylor Simpson. July 99
What Are the Effects of Writing-To-Learn Programs? (Research Matters). Rick VanDeWeghe. November 97–100
"What If?" Teaching Research and Creative-Thinking Skills through Proposal Writing. David M. Pegram. March 18–22
What I Plan to Take Beyond the Grave (Poetry). Fredrick Zydek. July 98
What Is Engaged Learning? (Research Matters). Rick VanDeWeghe. January 88–91
What Is Your Most Compelling Reason for Teaching Grammar? (Teacher to Teacher). Amy Benjamin; Carol Jago; Martha Kolln; Harry R. Noden; Nancy Patterson; James Penha; Michael W. Smith and Jeffrey D. Wilhelm; Constance Weaver; Rebecca S. Wheeler. May 18–21
What Play by a Playwright Other Than Shakespeare Has Been Especially Effective with Your Students? (Teacher to Teacher). Sharon L. Austin; Patricia L. Bell; Jennifer A. Fox; Patricia Rimmer. September 20–22
What Text Have You Found Most Successful With Your Students? (Teacher to Teacher). Curt Rallo; Lesley J. Roessing. January 16–17
When Winter Comes (Poetry). J. D. Schraffenberger. November 126
Where in the World Is My English Teacher? Travel as Professional Development. Leilani Barnett Kesner. November 25–29
Where Keats Lives (Poetry). Tom Romano. March 112
While Auditing a College Myth Course, a Recently Divorced Woman Responds (Poetry). Richard Glowacki. January 115
Whose Grammar for What Purpose? (New Voices). Tiffany J. Hunt and Bud Hunt. May 88–92
Why I Detest Nancie Atwell (New Voices). Sarah J. H. Brooks. January 92–94
Why Is the Sky Blue? Using Children's Questions to Motivate Research. Deb Teitelbaum. March 30–35
Why Not Short? (Bold Books for Teenagers). Don Gallo. January 109–13
Why We Need Neil Simon's Lost in Yonkers. Nathan Coates. September 23–28
Wrighting: Crafting Critical Literacy through Drama. Joseph M. Shosh. September 69–74
Young Farmer Remembers School (Poetry). Matthew J. Spireng. September 136
Your cheese and salami sandwich (Poetry). Mike Corbett. July 100
You Want Fries with That? (Poetry). Dick Bentley. September 134
Zooming In and Zooming Out: Putting Grammar in Context into Context. Jeff Anderson. May 28–34

Subject Index

achievement
What Are the Effects of Writing-to-Learn Programs? (Research Matters). November 97–100
All Quiet on the Western Front
Killing at Close Range: A Study in Intertextuality. January 27–31
Animal Dreams
Novel Choices, Pun Intended (From the Secondary Section). January 11–13
Animal Farm
Orwell Farmed for Education (Speaking My Mind). September 17–19 arts integration
Getting Inside S. E. Hinton's The Outsiders. January 44–48
Give Me Moor Proof: Othello in Seventh Grade. September 39–46
Learning from the Arts (Research Matters). July 71–75

Rediscovering the Artist, Reinvigorating the Self, Reinventing the Teacher. November 47–51

assessment

High School Teaching and College Expectations in Writing and Reading. January 81–87

New Writing Assessments, The: Where Are They Leading Us? (Speaking My Mind). November 21–22

"Process Teaching" and Content Feedback on Students' Drafts (Research Matters). September 109–12

Revelation Regarding the Potential Benefits of Low Expectations, A (New Voices). July 76–79

Sentence Patterns: Making Meaning with a Countywide Grammar Initiative. May 41–47

Trouble with Rubrics, The (Speaking My Mind). March 12–15

at-risk learners

Responding to Students Who Disclose the Violence in Their Lives. July 65–70

¡Sí, Se Puede! Preparing Teachers to Build Leadership among Underserved Students. November 71–76

Atwell, Nancie

Afterthought: Our Love/Hate Relationships with the Experts (New Voices). January 94–95

Why I Detest Nancie Atwell (New Voices). January 92–94

Bat 6

"Talk to the Hand, Girl": Using Texts to Explore Student Voice. January 56–60

Bleachers

What Text Have You Found Most Successful with Your Students? (Teacher to Teacher). January 16–17

book reviews, personal reading

Battle Angel Alita: Rusty Angel. There Is Never Only One True Face (Personal Reading). November 118–20

Curious Incident of the Dog in the Night-Time, The. A Mind with a View (Personal Reading). March 105–07

Mind with a View, A (Personal Reading). March 105–07

One Man's Will (Personal Reading). July 89–91

(Personal Reading) November 118–20, March 105–07, July 89–91

There Is Never Only One True Face (Personal Reading). November 118–20

Will in the World: How Shakespeare became Shakespeare. One Man's Will (Personal Reading). July 89–91 book reviews, professional resources

Author Surfing: Riding the Waves of the World Wide Web (Tools for Teaching). January 108

Beyond the Basic Rules: Fun with Grammar (Tools for Teaching). May 102–03

Demystifying Drama (Tools for Teaching). September 124–28

Finding Significance: Applying Louise Rosenblatt's Theories to Practice (Tools for Teaching). January 106–08

From Page to Stage: A Guide for Making It Happen (Tools for Teaching). January 106

Getting a Grip on Grammar Instruction (Tools for Teaching). May 102–06

Grammar Alive! A Guide for Teachers. Grammar Gets Its Groove Back (Tools for Teaching). May 104–06

Grammarama! Innovative Exercises, Creative Activities, Models from Reading, Sentence Combining, Updated Rules, and More! Beyond the Basic Rules: Fun with Grammar (Tools for Teaching). May 102–03

Grammar Gets Its Groove Back (Tools for Teaching). May 104–06

Great Films and How to Teach Them. Demystifying Drama (Tools for Teaching). September 126–28

Help! Reflections, Research, and Resources about Authors and Their Texts (Tools for Teaching). January 104–08

Inquiry, Independence, and Grammar (Tools for Teaching). May 103–04

Making Meaning with Texts: Selected Essays. Finding Significance: Applying Louise Rosenblatt's Theories to Practice (Tools for Teaching). January 106–08

Power of Grammar, The: Unconventional Approaches to the Conventions of Language. Inquiry, Independence, and Grammar (Tools for Teaching). May 103–04

Shaking Hands with Shakespeare. From Page to Stage: A Guide for Making It Happen (Tools for Teaching). January 106

Significance of Shakespeare, The (Tools for Teaching). January 104–06

(Tools for Teaching) September 124–28, January 104–08, May 102–06

Why Shakespeare: An Introduction to the Playwright's Art. The Significance of Shakespeare (Tools for Teaching). January 104–06

Wordplaygrounds: Reading, Writing, and Performing Poetry in the English Classroom. Demystifying Drama (Tools for Teaching). September 124–28 book reviews, young adult literature

13: Thirteen Stories That Capture the Agony and Ecstasy of Being Thirteen. Why Not Short? (Bold Books for Teenagers). January 111

33 Snowfish. Intelligent Choices for Intelligent Readers (Bold Books for Teenagers). November 124

2004 Honor List: An Encouraging Illustration of Extended Horizons. September 103–08

Acceleration. The Very Best Possibilities (Bold Books for Teenagers). March 110

Airborn. 2004 Honor List: An Encouraging Illustration of Extended Horizons. September 103–04

Andy Warhol, Prince of Pop. 2004 Honor List: An Encouraging Illustration of Extended Horizons. September 104–05

Aquamarine. Strange Creatures (Bold Books for Teenagers). September 130–31

(Bold Books for Teenagers) September 129–32, November 121–24, January 109–13, March 108–11, May 107–10, July 92–96

Candy. Summer Reading 2006 (Bold Books for Teenagers). July 93

Chanda's Secrets. 2004 Honor List: An Encouraging Illustration of Extended Horizons. September 105–06

Chill Wind. Intelligent Choices for Intelligent Readers (Bold Books for Teenagers). November 124

Chocolate War, The. Intelligent Choices for Intelligent Readers (Bold Books for Teenagers). November 123

Crackback. Summer Reading 2006 (Bold Books for Teenagers). July 93–94

Crossing the Wire. Summer Reading 2006 (Bold Books for Teenagers). July 94

Day of Tears: A Novel in Dialogue. Summer Reading 2006 (Bold Books for Teenagers). July 94

Dead-End Job. Summer Reading 2006 (Bold Books for Teenagers). July 95

Destination Unexpected. Why Not Short? (Bold Books for Teenagers). January 111

Divide, The. Strange Creatures (Bold Books for Teenagers). September 130

Double Identity. Summer Reading 2006 (Bold Books for Teenagers). July 96

Drums, Girls and Dangerous Pie. Summer Reading 2006 (Bold Books for Teenagers). July 95

Esperanza Rising. The Very Best Possibilities (Bold Books for Teenagers). March 110

Eyes of the Emperor. Summer Reading 2006 (Bold Books for Teenagers). July 94–95

Fade to Black. Summer Reading 2006 (Bold Books for Teenagers). July 95

Feed. The Very Best Possibilities, Part Two (Bold Books for Teenagers). May 108–09

Finding Our Way. Why Not Short? (Bold Books for Teenagers). January 111

Firebirds: An Anthology of Original Fantasy and Science Fiction. Why Not Short? (Bold Books for Teenagers). January 111

First Part Last, The. The Very Best Possibilities, Part Two (Bold Books for Teenagers). May 107–08

Flush. Summer Reading 2006 (Bold Books for Teenagers). July 96

Geography of Girlhood, The. Summer Reading 2006 (Bold Books for Teenagers). July 92–93
Giver, The. Intelligent Choices for Intelligent Readers (Bold Books for Teenagers). November 123
Godless. 2004 Honor List: An Encouraging Illustration of Extended Horizons. September 106 Half-human. Strange Creatures (Bold Books for Teenagers). September 131
Hatchet. Intelligent Choices for Intelligent Readers (Bold Books for Teenagers). November 123
Hidden Talents. Strange Creatures (Bold Books for Teenagers). September 130
Hole in My Life. The Very Best Possibilities, Part Two (Bold Books for Teenagers). May 109
Holes. Intelligent Choices for Intelligent Readers (Bold Books for Teenagers). November 124
Hoot. Intelligent Choices for Intelligent Readers (Bold Books for Teenagers). November 124; The Very Best Possibilities (Bold Books for Teenagers). March 111
House of the Scorpion, The. Strange Creatures (Bold Books for Teenagers). September 131
How I Live Now. 2004 Honor List: An Encouraging Illustration of Extended Horizons. September 106–07
I Am Not Esther. Intelligent Choices for Intelligent Readers (Bold Books for Teenagers). November 123
I Am the Messenger. Summer Reading 2006 (Bold Books for Teenagers). July 92
Inexcusable. Summer Reading 2006 (Bold Books for Teenagers). July 92
Intelligent Choices for Intelligent Readers (Bold Books for Teenagers). November 121–24
Invisible. Summer Reading 2006 (Bold Books for Teenagers). July 95
Keesha's House. The Very Best Possibilities, Part Two (Bold Books for Teenagers). May 109
Last Book in the Universe, The. The Very Best Possibilities (Bold Books for Teenagers). March 111
Left for Dead: A Young Man's Search for Justice for the USS Indianapolis. The Very Best Possibilities (Bold Books for Teenagers). March 111
Lizzie Bright and the Buckminster Boy. 2004 Honor List: An Encouraging Illustration of Extended Horizons. September 107–08
Looking for Alaska. The Very Best Possibilities, Part Two (Bold Books for Teenagers). May 109; Summer Reading 2006 (Bold Books for Teenagers). July 92
Losing Is Not an Option. Why Not Short? (Bold Books for Teenagers). January 111 Make Lemonade. Intelligent Choices for Intelligent Readers (Bold Books for Teenagers). November 124
Midnight for Charlie Bone. Strange Creatures (Bold Books for Teenagers). September 130
Mississippi Trial, 1955. The Very Best Possibilities (Bold Books for Teenagers). March 111
Monster. Intelligent Choices for Intelligent Readers (Bold Books for Teenagers). November 124
Night I Disappeared, The. Intelligent Choices for Intelligent Readers (Bold Books for Teenagers). November 123
No More Dead Dogs. The Very Best Possibilities (Bold Books for Teenagers). March 110
Northern Light, A. The Very Best Possibilities, Part Two (Bold Books for Teenagers). May 109
Out of Bounds: Seven Stories of Conflict and Hope. Why Not Short? (Bold Books for Teenagers). January 111
Outsiders, The. Intelligent Choices for Intelligent Readers (Bold Books for Teenagers). November 123
Past Perfect, Present Tense: New and Collected Stories. Why Not Short? (Bold Books for Teenagers). January 111
Phineas Gage: A Gruesome but True Story about Brain Science. The Very Best Possibilities (Bold Books for Teenagers). March 110
Playing in Traffic. The Very Best Possibilities, Part Two (Bold Books for Teenagers). May 109
Prep. Intelligent Choices for Intelligent Readers (Bold Books for Teenagers). November 123
Private Peaceful. 2004 Honor List: An Encouraging Illustration of Extended Horizons. September 108
Project X. Intelligent Choices for Intelligent Readers (Bold Books for Teenagers). November 123
Queen of Everything, The. Intelligent Choices for Intelligent Readers (Bold Books for Teenagers). November 124
Red Midnight. Intelligent Choices for Intelligent Readers (Bold Books for Teenagers). November 123
Red Sea. Summer Reading 2006 (Bold Books for Teenagers). July 94
Room on Lorelei Street, A. The Very Best Possibilities, Part Two (Bold Books for Teenagers). May 109; Summer Reading 2006 (Bold Books for Teenagers). July 92
Runner. Summer Reading 2006 (Bold Books for Teenagers). July 94
Sandpiper. Summer Reading 2006 (Bold Books for Teenagers). July 93 Saving Francesca. The Very Best Possibilities, Part Two (Bold Books for Teenagers). May 109–10
Schwa Was Here, The. The Very Best Possibilities (Bold Books for Teenagers). March 111
Sisterhood of the Traveling Pants, The. The Very Best Possibilities (Bold Books for Teenagers). March 110; The Very Best Possibilities, Part Two (Bold Books for Teenagers). May 110
Sledding Hill, The. Summer Reading 2006 (Bold Books for Teenagers). July 95
Sleeping Freshmen Never Lie. Summer Reading 2006 (Bold Books for Teenagers). July 95
Something about America. Summer Reading 2006 (Bold Books for Teenagers). July 96
Son of the Mob. The Very Best Possibilities, Part Two (Bold Books for Teenagers). May 110
Speak. Intelligent Choices for Intelligent Readers (Bold Books for Teenagers). November 123
Stargirl. The Very Best Possibilities, Part Two (Bold Books for Teenagers). May 110
Staying Fat for Sarah Byrnes. Intelligent Choices for Intelligent Readers (Bold Books for Teenagers). November 124
Stoner and Spaz. The Very Best Possibilities, Part Two (Bold Books for Teenagers). May 110
Stormbreaker. The Very Best Possibilities (Bold Books for Teenagers). March 110
Strange Creatures (Bold Books for Teenagers). September 129–32
Summer Reading 2006 (Bold Books for Teenagers). July 92–96
Sun, Moon, Stars, Rain. Summer Reading 2006 (Bold Books for Teenagers). July 93
Surviving Antarctica: Reality TV 2083. Summer Reading 2006 (Bold Books for Teenagers). July 94
Twilight. Strange Creatures (Bold Books for Teenagers). September 132
Very Best Possibilities, The (Bold Books for Teenagers). March 108–11
Very Best Possibilities, Part Two, The (Bold Books for Teenagers). May 107–10
Whale Talk. The Very Best Possibilities, Part Two (Bold Books for Teenagers). May 108
What a Song Can Do: 12 Riffs on the Power of Music. Why Not Short? (Bold Books for Teenagers). January 111
What My Mother Doesn't Know. The Very Best Possibilities (Bold Books for Teenagers). March 111
Who Am I Without Him? Short Stories about Girls and the Boys in Their Lives. Why Not Short? (Bold Books for Teenagers). January 111
Why Not Short? (Bold Books for Teenagers). January 109–13

Witch Season, The. Strange Creatures (Bold Books for Teenagers). September 131
Wolving Time, The. Strange Creatures (Bold Books for Teenagers). September 131
Wrecked. Summer Reading 2006 (Bold Books for Teenagers). July 93
Zazoo. The Very Best Possibilities (Bold Books for Teenagers). March 111 brain research

Teaching to Biological Gender Preferences in an All-Boys Catholic School. July 37–41

Ceremony
Novel Choices, Pun Intended (From the Secondary Section). January 11–13

collaborative/cooperative learning
Beyond the Page: Students as Actor-Readers. September 58–63
Close Reading on Your Feet: Performance in the English Language Arts Classroom (Teaching English in the World). September 116–19
Creating Purpose and a Renaissance in Research. March 43–45
Going International: Teaching and Learning Culture from the Outside In. July 23–27
I-Searching in Context: Thinking Critically about the Research Unit. March 68–74
Literature: An Exercise in Futility or the Way to Save the World? July 28–32
Mom Dad Buddy and Sis Stories: A Drama and Fiction Writing Workshop. July 52–57
Multigenre-Multigendered Research Papers. March 53–57
Performing the Drama of the Poem: Workshop, Rehearsal, and Reflection. September 88–96
Research à la Carte. March 58–61
Research and Authority in an Online World: Who Knows? Who Decides? (New Voices). March 89–92
Revelation Regarding the Potential Benefits of Low Expectations, A (New Voices). July 76–79
Teaching Literature and Language through Guided Discovery and Informal Classroom Drama. September 29–32
Time of Change, A: Research and the 1960s. Tracy Speaker and Carolyn K. Anderson. March 28–29
Using Improvisational Workshop to Explore Gender Issues in "The Untold Lie." September 82–87
Using The Original Approach to Teach Shakespeare. September 65–68
Wrighting: Crafting Critical Literacy through Drama. September 69–74

Contexts for Teaching Grammar (May theme)
Analyzing Grammar Rants: An Alternative to Traditional Grammar Instruction. May 71–77
Beyond the Basic Rules: Fun with Grammar (Tools for Teaching). May 102–03
Correctness: An Evolutionary Practice (Taking Time). May 98–101
Fresh Look at Sentence Fragments, A. May 78–83
From the Editor. May 12–14
Getting a Grip on Grammar Instruction (Tools for Teaching). May 102–06
Grammar Apprenticeship. May 65–70
Grammar Gets Its Groove Back (Tools for Teaching). May 104–06
Grammar Matters (From the Secondary Section). May 15–17
Grammars of Reading, The. May 48–52
Inquiry, Independence, and Grammar (Tools for Teaching). May 103–04
Phrase and Clause Grammar Tactics for the ESL/ELL Writing Classroom. May 35–40
Sentence Patterns: Making Meaning with a Countywide Grammar Initiative. May 41–47
"Somebody Died?" Using Grammar to Construct Meaning in Adolescent Literature. May 60–64
Teaching Conventions in a State-Mandated Testing Context. May 22–27
Transforming Writers through Grammar Study. May 53–59
Unintelligent Design: Where Does the Obsession with Correct Grammar Come From? (Teaching English in the World). May 93–97
What Is Your Most Compelling Reason for Teaching Grammar? (Teacher to Teacher). May 18–21
Whose Grammar for What Purpose? (New Voices). May 88–92
Zooming In and Zooming Out: Putting Grammar in Context into Context. May 28–34 creative writing

Creating Possibilities: Embedding Research into Creative Writing. March 23–27
Mom Dad Buddy and Sis Stories: A Drama and Fiction Writing Workshop. July 52–57

critical literacy
"Talk to the Hand, Girl": Using Texts to Explore Student Voice. January 56–60
Wrighting: Crafting Critical Literacy through Drama. September 69–74 critical pedagogy (see also teaching for social justice)

Literature: An Exercise in Futility or the Way to Save the World? July 28–32
Using Improvisational Workshop to Explore Gender Issues in "The Untold Lie." September 82–87
Using Process Drama to Deconstruct A Midsummer Night's Dream. September 75–81

Crucible, The
What Play by a Playwright Other Than Shakespeare Has Been Especially Effective with Your Students? (Teacher to Teacher). September 20–22

Cut
"Talk to the Hand, Girl": Using Texts to Explore Student Voice. January 56–60

Diary of Anne Frank, The Beyond Memorization: Using Drama to Promote Thinking (Taking Time). September 120–23

discussion
Analyzing Grammar Rants: An Alternative to Traditional Grammar Instruction. May 71–77
How Tashjian and Le Guin Encourage Social Activism in Young Adults. January 69–73
Interpretive Norms in Literature Discussions (Research Matters). May 84–87

drama (see also Drama of English Language Arts, The [September theme])
Creating Purpose and a Renaissance in Research. March 43–45
Mom Dad Buddy and Sis Stories: A Drama and Fiction Writing Workshop. July 52–57
Time of Change, A: Research and the 1960s. March 28–29

Drama of English Language Arts, The (September theme)
Beyond Memorization: Using Drama to Promote Thinking (Taking Time). September 120–23
Beyond the Page: Students as Actor-Readers. September 58–63
Blind Mice and a Motive—Studying Agatha Christie's The Mousetrap (New Voices). September 113–15
Challenging Normative Sexual and Gender Identity Beliefs through Romeo and Juliet. September 52–57
Close Reading on Your Feet: Performance in the English Language Arts Classroom (Teaching English in the World). September 116–19
Demystifying Drama (Tools for Teaching). September 124–28
From the Editor. September 10–11
Give Me Moor Proof: Othello in Seventh Grade. September 39–46
Performing the Drama of the Poem: Workshop, Rehearsal, and Reflection. September 88–96
Reading between the Lines: Strategies to Discover Meaning from a Text. September 47–51
Teaching Literature and Language through Guided Discovery and Informal Classroom Drama. September 29–32
Transformative Power of Drama, The: Bringing Literature and Social Justice to Life. September 33–38
Using Improvisational Workshop to Explore Gender Issues in "The Untold Lie." September 82–87
Using Process Drama to Deconstruct A Midsummer Night's Dream. September 75–81

Using The Original Approach to Teach Shakespeare. September 65–68
What Play by a Playwright Other Than Shakespeare Has Been Especially Effective with Your Students? (Teacher to Teacher). September 20–22
Why We Need Neil Simon's Lost in Yonkers. September 23–28
Wrighting: Crafting Critical Literacy through Drama. September 69–74

educational policy
New Writing Assessments, The: Where Are They Leading Us? (Speaking My Mind). November 21–22
Orwell Farmed for Education (Speaking My Mind). September 17–19

EJ* Extra (feature)
Falling Out of Like. January 18–19

engagement
Convention Memoir: Bringing a Little "Significance" Back to the Trenches (Snapshots). September 14–16
What Is Engaged Learning? (Research Matters). January 88–91

English language learners
Phrase and Clause Grammar Tactics for the ESL/ELL Writing Classroom. May 35–40
"Process Teaching" and Content Feedback on Students' Drafts (Research Matters). September 109–12
Responding to Students Who Disclose the Violence in Their Lives. July 65–70

Eye of the Heron, The
How Tashjian and Le Guin Encourage Social Activism in Young Adults. January 69–73

film
Demystifying Drama (Tools for Teaching). September 124–28
Film as Film: Using Movies to Help Students Visualize Literary Theory. January 32–38
I-Searching in Context: Thinking Critically about the Research Unit. March 68–74

Flipped
"Talk to the Hand, Girl": Using Texts to Explore Student Voice. January 56–60

Franklin, Benjamin
Toward "Moral Perfection": Integrating Judaic Concepts and Benjamin Franklin's Autobiography. July 33–36

From the Editor (feature)
September 10–11, November 14–15, January 9–10, March 9, May 12–14, July 10–12

From the Secondary Section (feature)
Collaborative Learning Communities: Building Leadership in a High School English Department. November 16–18
Grammar Matters. May 15–17
Guiding Research: A Collaborative Approach. March 10–11
Novel Choices, Pun Intended. January 11–13
School Life. July 13–14
Top Ten Reasons to Join Us in Pittsburgh, The. September 12–13

gender studies
Challenging Normative Sexual and Gender Identity Beliefs through Romeo and Juliet. September 52–57
Multigenre-Multigendered Research Papers. March 53–57
Teaching to Biological Gender Preferences in an All-Boys Catholic School. July 37–41
Using Improvisational Workshop to Explore Gender Issues in "The Untold Lie." September 82–87

Gospel According to Larry, The
How Tashjian and Le Guin Encourage Social Activism in Young Adults. January 69–73 grading

"Process Teaching" and Content Feedback on Students' Drafts (Research Matters). September 109–12

grammar and usage (see also Contexts for Teaching Grammar [May theme])
"But When Do You Teach Grammar?" Allaying Community Concerns about Pedagogy. July 42–47
Falling Out of Like (EJ Extra). January 18–19 Sentence-Structure Dilemma, The (Speaking My Mind). January 14–15

graphic novels
Expanding Literacies through Graphic Novels. July 58–64

"Hangman"
Transformative Power of Drama, The: Bringing Literature and Social Justice to Life. September 33–38

Haroun and the Sea of Stories
What Text Have You Found Most Successful with Your Students? (Teacher to Teacher). January 16–17

Harry Potter and the Sorcerer's Stone
Harry Potter as a Context for Interdisciplinary Studies (Taking Time). January 100–03

Hush
"Talk to the Hand, Girl": Using Texts to Explore Student Voice. January 56–60

In Context: Private, Parochial, and Independent Schools (July theme)
"But When Do You Teach Grammar?" Allaying Community Concerns about Pedagogy. July 42–47
From the Editor. July 10–12
Going International: Teaching and Learning Culture from the Outside In. July 23–27
Literacy of Involvement, A: Bringing Together Service and Learning in Parochial Schools (Teaching English in the World). July 80–83
Literature: An Exercise in Futility or the Way to Save the World? July 28–32
School Life (From the Secondary Section). July 13–14
Teaching to Biological Gender Preferences in an All-Boys Catholic School. July 37–41
Toward "Moral Perfection": Integrating Judaic Concepts and Benjamin Franklin's Autobiography. July 33–36

In Memoriam (feature)
Richard Alm. November 11–13

In Our Time
Learning to View Literature Instruction with Literary Lenses: One Group's Story. January 74–80 inquiry (problem-based) education

Strategic Writing: Moving beyond the Classroom Assignment. November 82–88 interdisciplinary teaching

Harry Potter as a Context for Interdisciplinary Studies (Taking Time). January 100–03 journals

Multigenre-Multigendered Research Papers. March 53–57
Research à la Carte. March 58–61
Researching Writing: The Unfamiliar-Genre Research Project. March 36–42
Response Journals: Keeping Students Tuned In during Read-Alouds (Stepping into the Classroom). November 113–15
Toward "Moral Perfection": Integrating Judaic Concepts and Benjamin Franklin's Autobiography. July 33–36

Joy Luck Club, The
Novel Choices, Pun Intended (From the Secondary Section). January 11–13

Kingsolver, Barbara
Adolescents and Global Issues (Teaching English in the World). January 97–98
Confronting the Theme of Power (Teaching English in the World). January 96–97
Languages We Don't Understand: Considering America through Words Born of Ashes (Teaching English in the World). January 96, 99
Novel Choices, Pun Intended (From the Secondary Section). January 11–13
"So, What's Political about It?" (Teaching English in the World). January 98–99

language variation
Phrase and Clause Grammar Tactics for the ESL/ELL Writing Classroom. May 35–40

learning communities
Altering Ways of Being in a Language Arts Classroom. November 30–34
Collaborative Learning Communities: Building Leadership in a High School English Department (From the Secondary Section). November 16–18
Daring to Teach Writing Authentically, K–12 and Beyond. November 77–81

NEH Seminars: Collaborative Communities for Professional Development. November 35–40 lesbian gay bisexual transgendered
Challenging Normative Sexual and Gender Identity Beliefs through Romeo and Juliet. September 52–57
Lewis, C. S.
"Indefinable Stirrings and Longings": Research on Writing through Student Letters to Authors. January 49–55 literacy development
Expanding Literacies through Graphic Novels. July 58–64
Give Me Moor Proof: Othello in Seventh Grade. September 39–46
"Indefinable Stirrings and Longings": Research on Writing through Student Letters to Authors. January 49–55
Teaching Warriors Don't Cry with Other Text Types to Enhance Comprehension. January 61–68 literary theory
Film as Film: Using Movies to Help Students Visualize Literary Theory. January 32–38
Learning to View Literature Instruction with Literary Lenses: One Group's Story. January 74–80 literature circles and book clubs
"Talk to the Hand, Girl": Using Texts to Explore Student Voice. January 56–60 literature study (see also Drama of English Language Arts, The [September theme] and Teaching Texts and Authors [January theme])
Going International: Teaching and Learning Culture from the Outside In. July 23–27
Interpretive Norms in Literature Discussions (Research Matters). May 84–87
Literature: An Exercise in Futility or the Way to Save the World? July 28–32
"Somebody Died?" Using Grammar to Construct Meaning in Adolescent Literature. May 60–64
Teaching to Biological Gender Preferences in an All-Boys Catholic School. July 37–41
Lord of the Flies
Adolescents and Global Issues (Teaching English in the World). January 97–98
Confronting the Theme of Power (Teaching English in the World). January 96–97
Languages We Don't Understand: Considering America through Words Born of Ashes (Teaching English in the World). January 96, 99
"So, What's Political about It?" (Teaching English in the World). January 98–99
Teaching to Biological Gender Preferences in an All-Boys Catholic School. July 37–41
Lost in Yonkers
Why We Need Neil Simon's Lost in Yonkers. September 23–28
Macbeth
Teaching Literature and Language through Guided Discovery and Informal Classroom Drama. September 29–32
"Man He Killed, The"
Killing at Close Range: A Study in Intertextuality. January 27–31 media literacy
Expanding Literacies through Graphic Novels. July 58–64
Film as Film: Using Movies to Help Students Visualize Literary Theory. January 32–38 mentoring
Keeping New English Teachers "Young": Toward Best Practice in New Teacher Development (Teaching English in the World). November 105–08
Role and Responsibility of the Experienced Teacher, The. November 52–57
Midsummer Night's Dream, A
Using Process Drama to Deconstruct A Midsummer Night's Dream. September 75–81
Moby-Dick
Film as Film: Using Movies to Help Students Visualize Literary Theory. January 32–38
Reading Aloud: The Moby-Dick Marathon. January 39–43
"Monkey's Paw, The"
Learning to View Literature Instruction with Literary Lenses: One Group's Story. January 74–80
Mousetrap, The
Blind Mice and a Motive—Studying Agatha Christie's The Mousetrap (New Voices). September 113–15
Mrs. Dalloway
I Think I'm Falling in Love with This Novel. July 48–51 multicultural literatures
Novel Choices, Pun Intended (From the Secondary Section). January 11–13
Teaching Warriors Don't Cry with Other Text Types to Enhance Comprehension. January 61–68
Unveiling Students' Perceptions about Women in Islam. January 20–26
"My Last Duchess"
Reading between the Lines: Strategies to Discover Meaning from a Text. September 47–51
Number the Stars
Teaching Literature and Language through Guided Discovery and Informal Classroom Drama. September 29–32
Odyssey, The
Grammars of Reading, The. May 48–52
What Play by a Playwright Other Than Shakespeare Has Been Especially Effective with Your Students? (Teacher to Teacher). September 21–22
Of Mice and Men
Dangerous Profession, The (Teaching English in the World). March 93–96
Original Approach, The
Using The Original Approach to Teach Shakespeare. September 65–68
Othello
Beyond the Page: Students as Actor-Readers. September 58–63
Give Me Moor Proof: Othello in Seventh Grade. September 39–46
Outsiders, The
Getting Inside S. E. Hinton's The Outsiders. January 44–48 poetry
Demystifying Drama (Tools for Teaching). September 124–28
Jumping Genres: Getting Students Involved with Poetry (Stepping into the Classroom). November 115–17
Performing the Drama of the Poem: Workshop, Rehearsal, and Reflection. September 88–96
(Poetry) September 133–36, November 125–28, January 114–17, March 112–15, May 111–14, July 97–100
Rediscovering the Joy of Poetry. September 97–102 professional development (see also Professional Development and Leadership [November theme])
School Life (From the Secondary Section). July 13–14
Top Ten Reasons to Join Us in Pittsburgh, The (From the Secondary Section). September 12–13
Why I Detest Nancie Atwell (New Voices). January 92–94
Professional Development and Leadership (November theme)
Altering Ways of Being in a Language Arts Classroom. November 30–34
Collaborative Learning Communities: Building Leadership in a High School English Department (From the Secondary Section). November 16–18
Daring to Teach Writing Authentically, K–12 and Beyond. November 77–81
From the Editor. November 14–15
Keeping New English Teachers "Young": Toward Best Practice in New Teacher Development (Teaching English in the World). November 105–08
Learning to Love the Questions: Professional Growth and Perspective Transformations. November 41–46
More Than Just a Web Site: Representing Teacher Research through Digital Portfolios. November 65–70

NEH Seminars: Collaborative Communities for Professional Development. November 35–40
New Teacher's Guide to Professional Development, A (New Voices). November 101–04
Pedagogical Recycling: How Colleagues Change Colleagues' Minds. November 58–64
Rediscovering the Artist, Reinvigorating the Self, Reinventing the Teacher. November 47–51
Role and Responsibility of the Experienced Teacher, The. November 52–57
Sharing Perspectives on Staff Development (English in the City). November 109–12
¡Sí, Se Puede! Preparing Teachers to Build Leadership among Underserved Students. November 71–76
Where in the World Is My English Teacher? Travel as Professional Development. November 25–29

punctuation
Teaching Conventions in a State-Mandated Testing Context. May 22–27
Whose Grammar for What Purpose? (New Voices). May 88–92

reading
Beyond the Page: Students as Actor-Readers. September 58–63
Challenging Normative Sexual and Gender Identity Beliefs through Romeo and Juliet. September 52–57
Expanding Literacies through Graphic Novels. July 58–64
Grammars of Reading, The. May 48–52
High School Teaching and College Expectations in Writing and Reading. January 81–87
Learning to View Literature Instruction with Literary Lenses: One Group's Story. January 74–80
Power of Youth, The: How Do We Uncover It? (English in the City). March 97–99
Reading Aloud: The Moby-Dick Marathon. January 39–43
Reading between the Lines: Strategies to Discover Meaning from a Text. September 47–51
Response Journals: Keeping Students Tuned In during Read-Alouds (Stepping into the Classroom). November 113–15
"Somebody Died?" Using Grammar to Construct Meaning in Adolescent Literature. May 60–64
Teaching Warriors Don't Cry with Other Text Types to Enhance Comprehension. January 61–68
Using Improvisational Workshop to Explore Gender Issues in "The Untold Lie." September 82–87

Reading, Writing, and Re-presenting Research (March theme)
Creating Possibilities: Embedding Research into Creative Writing. March 23–27
Creating Purpose and a Renaissance in Research. March 43–45
Dangerous Profession, The (Teaching English in the World). March 93–96
From the Editor. March 9
Guiding Research: A Collaborative Approach (From the Secondary Section). March 10–11
I-Searching in Context: Thinking Critically about the Research Unit. March 68–74
I-Search in the Age of Information. March 62–67
Keeping the Learner in Mind (Stepping into the Classroom). March 100–04
Multigenre-Multigendered Research Papers. March 53–57
Research à la Carte. March 58–61
Research and Authority in an Online World: Who Knows? Who Decides? (New Voices). March 89–92
Researching Writing: The Unfamiliar-Genre Research Project. March 36–42
Research Paper Baby Steps. March 75–77
Spinning Straw into Gold: Transforming Information into Knowledge during Web-Based Research. March 46–52
Teaching the Research Paper for Local Action. March 76–83
Time of Change, A: Research and the 1960s. March 28–29
Using Scenarios to Reflect on Research Papers (Stepping into the Classroom). March 102–04
Variation on the Chapbook, A: The Book as Art (Stepping into the Classroom). March 100–02
"What If?" Teaching Research and Creative-Thinking Skills through Proposal Writing. March 18–22
Why Is the Sky Blue? Using Children's Questions to Motivate Research. March 30–35

reading/writing connection
"But When Do You Teach Grammar?" Allaying Community Concerns about Pedagogy. July 42–47
Grammar Apprenticeship. May 65–70
Greater Peace, A (Snapshots). July 17–19
I Think I'm Falling in Love with This Novel. July 48–51
Sentence Patterns: Making Meaning with a Countywide Grammar Initiative. May 41–47
Teaching Conventions in a State-Mandated Testing Context. May 22–27
Zooming In and Zooming Out: Putting Grammar in Context into Context. May 28–34

reflection
Inside or Out: Reflection Lets Us See More of Ourselves (Stepping into the Classroom). July 84–88
Learning from the Arts (Research Matters). July 71–75
Looking at Themselves Allows Them to Grow (Stepping into the Classroom). July 84–86 religion and culture

"But When Do You Teach Grammar?" Allaying Community Concerns about Pedagogy. July 42–47
Greater Peace, A (Snapshots). July 17–19
Toward "Moral Perfection": Integrating Judaic Concepts and Benjamin Franklin's Autobiography. July 33–36
Unveiling Students' Perceptions about Women in Islam. January 20–26

research (see also Reading, Writing, and Re-presenting Research [March theme])
Deep Modeling and Authentic Teaching: Challenging Students or Challenging Students? (Research Matters). March 84–88
Fresh Look at Sentence Fragments, A. May 78–83
High School Teaching and College Expectations in Writing and Reading. January 81–87
Interpretive Norms in Literature Discussions (Research Matters). May 84–87
Learning from the Arts (Research Matters). July 71–75
"Process Teaching" and Content Feedback on Students' Drafts (Research Matters). September 109–12
(Research Matters) September 109–12, November 97–100, January 88–91, March 84–88, May 84–87, July 71–75
Unintelligent Design: Where Does the Obsession with Correct Grammar Come From? (Teaching English in the World). May 93–97
What Are the Effects of Writing-to-Learn Programs? (Research Matters). November 97–100
What Is Engaged Learning? (Research Matters). January 88–91

"Rocking-Horse Winner, The"
Learning to View Literature Instruction with Literary Lenses: One Group's Story. January 74–80

"Rockpile, The"
Learning to View Literature Instruction with Literary Lenses: One Group's Story. January 74–80

Romeo and Juliet
Challenging Normative Sexual and Gender Identity Beliefs through Romeo and Juliet. September 52–57

"Rose for Emily, A"
Reading between the Lines: Strategies to Discover Meaning from a Text. September 47–51

Rosenblatt, Louise
Finding Significance: Applying Louise Rosenblatt's Theories to Practice (Tools for Teaching). January 106–08

Help! Reflections, Research, and Resources about Authors and Their Texts (Tools for Teaching). January 104–08
"Scarlet Ibis, The"
Learning to View Literature Instruction with Literary Lenses: One Group's Story. January 74–80 service learning
Literacy of Involvement, A: Bringing Together Service and Learning in Parochial Schools (Teaching English in the World). July 80–83
Shakespeare
Beyond the Page: Students as Actor-Readers. September 58–63
Challenging Normative Sexual and Gender Identity Beliefs through Romeo and Juliet. September 52–57
From Page to Stage: A Guide for Making It Happen (Tools for Teaching). January 106
Give Me Moor Proof: Othello in Seventh Grade. September 39–46
Help! Reflections, Research, and Resources about Authors and Their Texts (Tools for Teaching). January 104–08
One Man's Will (Personal Reading). July 89–91
Significance of Shakespeare, The (Tools for Teaching). January 104–06
Using Process Drama to Deconstruct A Midsummer Night's Dream. September 75–81
Using The Original Approach to Teach Shakespeare. September 65–68
Will in the World: How Shakespeare became Shakespeare. One Man's Will (Personal Reading). July 89–91
Wrighting: Crafting Critical Literacy through Drama. September 69–74
Slaughterhouse-Five or the Children's Crusade
Learning to View Literature Instruction with Literary Lenses: One Group's Story. January 74–80
Snapshots (feature)
Convention Memoir: Bringing a Little "Significance" Back to the Trenches. September 14–16
Dynamic Characters: A Year in the Life of Fourth Hour. July 15–16
Greater Peace, A. July 17–19
Letters from the Past. November 19–20
Speak
"Talk to the Hand, Girl": Using Texts to Explore Student Voice. January 56–60
Speaking My Mind (feature)
Engaging Students in Your Absence: An Open Letter to English Teachers. July 20–22
In Defense of the Five-Paragraph Essay. March 16–17
New Writing Assessments, The: Where Are They Leading Us? November 21–22
Orwell Farmed for Education. September 17–19
Sentence-Structure Dilemma, The. January 14–15
Trouble with Rubrics, The. March 12–15
Visibility: How Instructors Can Ameliorate Depression. November 23–24
"Story of an Hour, The"
Reading between the Lines: Strategies to Discover Meaning from a Text. September 47–51 strategies/practices
Adolescents and Global Issues (Teaching English in the World). January 97–98
Beyond the Page: Students as Actor-Readers. September 58–63
Bio Buddies (Stepping into the Classroom). July 86–88
Blind Mice and a Motive—Studying Agatha Christie's The Mousetrap (New Voices). September 113–15
Challenging Normative Sexual and Gender Identity Beliefs through Romeo and Juliet. September 52–57
Close Reading on Your Feet: Performance in the English Language Arts Classroom (Teaching English in the World). September 116–19
Composing for Delivery. November 89–96
Confronting the Theme of Power (Teaching English in the World). January 96–97
Creating Possibilities: Embedding Research into Creative Writing. March 23–27
Creating Purpose and a Renaissance in Research. March 43–45
Dynamic Characters: A Year in the Life of Fourth Hour (Snapshots). July 15–16
Getting Inside S. E. Hinton's The Outsiders. January 44–48
Give Me Moor Proof: Othello in Seventh Grade. September 39–46
Going International: Teaching and Learning Culture from the Outside In. July 23–27
Grammar Apprenticeship. May 65–70
Grammars of Reading, The. May 48–52
Harry Potter as a Context for Interdisciplinary Studies (Taking Time). January 100–03
Inside or Out: Reflection Lets Us See More of Ourselves (Stepping into the Classroom). July 84–88
I-Searching in Context: Thinking Critically about the Research Unit. March 68–74
I-Search in the Age of Information. March 62–67
I Think I'm Falling in Love with This Novel. July 48–51
Jumping Genres: Getting Students Involved with Poetry (Stepping into the Classroom). November 115–17
Keeping the Learner in Mind (Stepping into the Classroom). March 100–04
Killing at Close Range: A Study in Intertextuality. January 27–31
Languages We Don't Understand: Considering America through Words Born of Ashes (Teaching English in the World). January 96, 99
Learning to View Literature Instruction with Literary Lenses: One Group's Story. January 74–80
Literature: An Exercise in Futility or the Way to Save the World? July 28–32
Looking at Themselves Allows Them to Grow (Stepping into the Classroom). July 84–86
Mom Dad Buddy and Sis Stories: A Drama and Fiction Writing Workshop. July 52–57
Multigenre-Multigendered Research Papers. March 53–57
Pedagogical Recycling: How Colleagues Change Colleagues' Minds. November 58–64
Performing the Drama of the Poem: Workshop, Rehearsal, and Reflection. September 88–96
Phrase and Clause Grammar Tactics for the ESL/ELL Writing Classroom. May 35–40
Reading Aloud: The Moby-Dick Marathon. January 39–43
Reading between the Lines: Strategies to Discover Meaning from a Text. September 47–51
Research à la Carte. March 58–61
Research and Authority in an Online World: Who Knows? Who Decides? (New Voices). March 89–92
Researching Writing: The Unfamiliar-Genre Research Project. March 36–42
Research Paper Baby Steps. March 75–77
Responding to Students Who Disclose the Violence in Their Lives. July 65–70
Response Journals: Keeping Students Tuned In during Read-Alouds (Stepping into the Classroom). November 113–15
Revelation Regarding the Potential Benefits of Low Expectations, A (New Voices). July 76–79
Sage Advice Makes Life That Much Sweeter (Stepping into the Classroom). November 113–17
Sentence Patterns: Making Meaning with a Countywide Grammar Initiative. May 41–47
"Somebody Died?" Using Grammar to Construct Meaning in Adolescent Literature. May 60–64
"So, What's Political about It?" (Teaching English in the World). January 98–99
Spinning Straw into Gold: Transforming Information into Knowledge during Web-Based Research. March 46–52
(Stepping into the Classroom) November 113–17, March 100–04, July 84–88

Strategic Writing: Moving beyond the Classroom Assignment. November 82–88
"Talk to the Hand, Girl": Using Texts to Explore Student Voice. January 56–60
Teaching Literature and Language through Guided Discovery and Informal Classroom Drama. September 29–32
Teaching the Research Paper for Local Action. March 76–83
Teaching to Biological Gender Preferences in an All-Boys Catholic School. July 37–41
Teaching Warriors Don't Cry with Other Text Types to Enhance Comprehension. January 61–68
Time of Change, A: Research and the 1960s. March 28–29
Transformative Power of Drama, The: Bringing Literature and Social Justice to Life. September 33–38
Transforming Writers through Grammar Study. May 53–59
Unveiling Students' Perceptions about Women in Islam. January 20–26
Using Improvisational Workshop to Explore Gender Issues in "The Untold Lie." September 82–87
Using Process Drama to Deconstruct A Midsummer Night's Dream. September 75–81
Using Scenarios to Reflect on Research Papers (Stepping into the Classroom). March 102–04
Using The Original Approach to Teach Shakespeare. September 65–68
Variation on the Chapbook, A: The Book as Art (Stepping into the Classroom). March 100–02
"What If?" Teaching Research and Creative-Thinking Skills through Proposal Writing. March 18–22
Why Is the Sky Blue? Using Children's Questions to Motivate Research. March 30–35
Why We Need Neil Simon's Lost in Yonkers. September 23–28
Wrighting: Crafting Critical Literacy through Drama. September 69–74
Zooming In and Zooming Out: Putting Grammar in Context into Context. May 28–34 struggling readers

"Somebody Died?" Using Grammar to Construct Meaning in Adolescent Literature. May 60–64

tableaux
Beyond the Page: Students as Actor-Readers. September 58–63
Teaching Literature and Language through Guided Discovery and Informal Classroom Drama. September 29–32
Transformative Power of Drama, The: Bringing Literature and Social Justice to Life. September 33–38

teacher as researcher
Altering Ways of Being in a Language Arts Classroom. November 30–34
Daring to Teach Writing Authentically, K–12 and Beyond. November 77–81
Learning to Love the Questions: Professional Growth and Perspective Transformations. November 41–46
More Than Just a Web Site: Representing Teacher Research through Digital Portfolios. November 65–70
Pedagogical Recycling: How Colleagues Change Colleagues' Minds. November 58–64
Sentence Patterns: Making Meaning with a Countywide Grammar Initiative. May 41–47
¡Sí, Se Puede! Preparing Teachers to Build Leadership among Underserved Students. November 71–76
Why I Detest Nancie Atwell (New Voices). January 92–94

Teacher to Teacher (feature)
What Is Your Most Compelling Reason for Teaching Grammar? May 18–21
What Play by a Playwright Other Than Shakespeare Has Been Especially Effective with Your Students? September 20–22
What Text Have You Found Most Successful With Your Students? January 16–17

teaching, early-career (see also New Voices [feature]) Engaging Students in Your Absence: An Open Letter to English Teachers (Speaking My Mind). July 20–22 teaching for social justice (see also critical pedagogy)

How Tashjian and Le Guin Encourage Social Activism in Young Adults. January 69–73
Literature: An Exercise in Futility or the Way to Save the World? July 28–32
Teaching the Research Paper for Local Action. March 76–83
Transformative Power of Drama, The: Bringing Literature and Social Justice to Life. September 33–38

Teaching Texts and Authors (January theme)
Adolescents and Global Issues (Teaching English in the World). January 97–98
Confronting the Theme of Power (Teaching English in the World). January 96–97
Film as Film: Using Movies to Help Students Visualize Literary Theory. January 32–38
From the Editor. January 9–10
Getting Inside S. E. Hinton's The Outsiders. January 44–48
Harry Potter as a Context for Interdisciplinary Studies (Taking Time). January 100–03
How Tashjian and Le Guin Encourage Social Activism in Young Adults. January 69–73
"Indefinable Stirrings and Longings": Research on Writing through Student Letters to Authors. January 49–55
Killing at Close Range: A Study in Intertextuality. January 27–31
Languages We Don't Understand: Considering America through Words Born of Ashes (Teaching English in the World). January 96, 99
Novel Choices, Pun Intended (From the Secondary Section). January 11–13
"So, What's Political about It?" (Teaching English in the World). January 98–99
"Talk to the Hand, Girl": Using Texts to Explore Student Voice. January 56–60
Teaching Warriors Don't Cry with Other Text Types to Enhance Comprehension. January 61–68
Unveiling Students' Perceptions about Women in Islam. January 20–26
What Text Have You Found Most Successful with Your Students? (Teacher to Teacher). January 16–17

technology
More Than Just a Web Site: Representing Teacher Research through Digital Portfolios. November 65–70
Rediscovering the Joy of Poetry. September 97–102
Research and Authority in an Online World: Who Knows? Who Decides? (New Voices). March 89–92
Spinning Straw into Gold: Transforming Information into Knowledge during Web-Based Research. March 46–52
Teaching the Research Paper for Local Action. March 76–83
Whose Grammar for What Purpose? (New Voices). May 88–92

Tess of the d'Urbervilles
I Think I'm Falling in Love with This Novel. July 48–51 testing

Teaching Conventions in a State-Mandated Testing Context. May 22–27

"Thank You, Ma'am"
Learning to View Literature Instruction with Literary Lenses: One Group's Story. January 74–80

Things Fall Apart
Going International: Teaching and Learning Culture from the Outside In. July 23–27

Things They Carried, The
Killing at Close Range: A Study in Intertextuality. January 27–31

"Three Hundred Pesos"
Learning to View Literature Instruction with Literary Lenses: One Group's Story. January 74–80

To Kill a Mockingbird
Teaching Conventions in a State-Mandated Testing Context. May 22–27

travel
NEH Seminars: Collaborative Communities for Professional Development. November 35–40
Where in the World Is My English Teacher? Travel as Professional Development. November 25–29
Twelve Angry Men
What Play by a Playwright Other Than Shakespeare Has Been Especially Effective with Your Students? (Teacher to Teacher). September 20–22
"Untold Lie, The"
Using Improvisational Workshop to Explore Gender Issues in "The Untold Lie." September 82–87 urban education
(English in the City) November 109–12, March 97–99
Responding to Students Who Disclose the Violence in Their Lives. July 65–70
Sharing Perspectives on Staff Development (English in the City). November 109–12
Vote for Larry
How Tashjian and Le Guin Encourage Social Activism in Young Adults. January 69–73
Warriors Don't Cry
Teaching Warriors Don't Cry with Other Text Types to Enhance Comprehension. January 61–68
Witness
"Talk to the Hand, Girl": Using Texts to Explore Student Voice. January 56–60 writing
Analyzing Grammar Rants: An Alternative to Traditional Grammar Instruction. May 71–77
Composing for Delivery. November 89–96
Creating Possibilities: Embedding Research into Creative Writing. March 23–27
Dynamic Characters: A Year in the Life of Fourth Hour (Snapshots). July 15–16
Fresh Look at Sentence Fragments, A. May 78–83
High School Teaching and College Expectations in Writing and Reading. January 81–87
In Defense of the Five-Paragraph Essay (Speaking My Mind). March 16–17
I-Searching in Context: Thinking Critically about the Research Unit. March 68–74
I-Search in the Age of Information. March 62–67
Mom Dad Buddy and Sis Stories: A Drama and Fiction Writing Workshop. July 52–57
Multigenre-Multigendered Research Papers. March 53–57
New Writing Assessments, The: Where Are They Leading Us? (Speaking My Mind). November 21–22
Phrase and Clause Grammar Tactics for the ESL/ELL Writing Classroom. May 35–40
Rediscovering the Joy of Poetry. September 97–102
Research à la Carte. March 58–61
Research and Authority in an Online World: Who Knows? Who Decides? (New Voices). March 89–92
Researching Writing: The Unfamiliar-Genre Research Project. March 36–42
Research Paper Baby Steps. March 75–77
Responding to Students Who Disclose the Violence in Their Lives. July 65–70
Revelation Regarding the Potential Benefits of Low Expectations, A (New Voices). July 76–79
Spinning Straw into Gold: Transforming Information into Knowledge during Web-Based Research. March 46–52
Strategic Writing: Moving beyond the Classroom Assignment. November 82–88
Teaching Conventions in a State-Mandated Testing Context. May 22–27
Teaching the Research Paper for Local Action. March 76–83
Toward "Moral Perfection": Integrating Judaic Concepts and Benjamin Franklin's Autobiography. July 33–36
Transforming Writers through Grammar Study. May 53–59
Using Scenarios to Reflect on Research Papers (Stepping into the Classroom). March 102–04
Variation on the Chapbook, A: The Book as Art (Stepping into the Classroom). March 100–02
What Are the Effects of Writing-to-Learn Programs? (Research Matters). November 97–100
"What If?" Teaching Research and Creative-Thinking Skills through Proposal Writing. March 18–22
Whose Grammar for What Purpose? (New Voices). May 88–92
Why Is the Sky Blue? Using Children's Questions to Motivate Research. March 30–35
Wrighting: Crafting Critical Literacy through Drama. September 69–74
Zooming In and Zooming Out: Putting Grammar in Context into Context. May 28–34 writing workshop
Researching Writing: The Unfamiliar-Genre Research Project. March 36–42 young adult literature (see also book reviews, young adult literature)
2004 Honor List: An Encouraging Illustration of Extended Horizons. September 103–08
(Bold Books for Teenagers) September 129–32, November 121–24, January 109–13, March 108–11, May 107–10, July 92–96
Intelligent Choices for Intelligent Readers (Bold Books for Teenagers). November 121–24
Strange Creatures (Bold Books for Teenagers). September 129–32
Summer Reading 2006 (Bold Books for Teenagers). July 92–96
Very Best Possibilities, Part Two, The (Bold Books for Teenagers). May 107–10
Very Best Possibilities, The (Bold Books for Teenagers). March 108–11
Why Not Short? (Bold Books for Teenagers). January 109–13